

Population Connection Leadership Training Institute for Ohio Educators July 31-August 1, 2010

Are you interested in sharing dynamic, quality environmental education and human geography curricula with educators?

Since 1990, Population Connection has been hosting train-the-trainer institutes to prepare educators to facilitate workshops using our hands-on activities. During the Institute, we will

- Demonstrate a range of teaching activities,
- Share presentation ideas,
- Discuss the many social and ecological issues related to population growth and resource use.

The learning sessions and materials are designed to prepare educators to present population education workshops to teachers and future teachers in Ohio. The Institute is a must for:

- Science, social studies and math education faculty,
- Nonformal educators who work with teachers at zoos and nature centers, and
- K-12 teachers who present professional development workshops.

Participants will receive:

- an extensive handbook of teaching materials,
- activity correlations to the Ohio Academic Content Standards
- the latest edition of our award-winning "dot" video, World Population and much more.

Population Connection is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. Our Population Education Program has been developing K-12 curricula and facilitating teacher workshops since 1975. Visit us at www.populationeducation.org.
